- Event to be live streamed between 9:00 AM – 1:00 PM ET

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 20, 2026 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Invivyd, Inc. (Nasdaq: IVVD) today announced that Marc Elia, Chairman of the Invivyd Board of Directors, is a featured speaker at the POLITICO Health Care Summit on Tuesday, April 21. During the session, Mr. Elia will frame the evolving landscape of viral disease prevention, including the role of monoclonal antibodies in keeping Americans healthy moving forward.

"In American medicine, infectious disease prevention has historically involved substantial federal stewardship through the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, including the U.S. Food and Drug Administration and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention," said Mr. Elia. "It is critical going forward that key stakeholders understand that best-in-class preventative and therapeutic monoclonal antibodies can advance medicine beyond the limits of vaccines towards improved health outcomes."

The POLITICO Health Care Summit is bringing together policy makers, industry leaders, and health experts to discuss the future of American health care. In addition to Mr. Elia, featured speakers include Mehmet Oz, M.D., Administrator, Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, and Mark Cuban, Entrepreneur and Co-Founder, Cost Plus Drugs.
